

FOR RELEASE
LEWIS AND WILKINS LLP
www.lewisandwilkins.com
(317) 495-7100

Lewis And Wilkins LLP Attorney Andrew Wells Elected City Court Judge

Indianapolis (November 9, 2011) – LAW associate Andrew Wells was elected yesterday Beech Grove City Court Judge. Andrew’s legal background has prepared him well for this role. He has served as Judge Pro Tempore for the Marion County Superior Court; law clerked for the Indiana Office of Environmental Adjudication as well as the Municipal Attorney of Anchorage Alaska, assisting with civil and environmental litigation matters. Before earning his law degree Andrew worked in the Office of Governor Mitch Daniels, with the Director of Intergovernmental Affairs. After leaving the Governor’s Office, he served as Deputy Communications Director for the Mitch for Governor Campaign Committee.

Andrew is a graduate of Wabash College and Indiana University School of Law – Indianapolis. He currently represents numerous state and municipal agencies as well as local businesses and individuals in civil litigation in his practice at LEWIS AND WILKINS LLP. Andrew resides in Beech Grove with his wife, Ashley.

LEWIS AND WILKINS LLP provides its clients with a wealth of experience in each of its practice areas. The firm’s professionals are committed to providing their clients with diverse practice areas. To learn more about the firm or Andrew please view www.lewisandwilkins.com or call (317) 636-7460.

###